Instructions for Authors for the American Journal of Medical Quality Q-Tip Column

Q-Tip is designed to be a 1-page venue for health professions students to share their quality improvement work. It is different from a full research paper.

Title page: The title page should include the title, the authors’ full names, advanced degree/certifications, and affiliations (including location [city/state]). We require the full mailing address and contact information (e-mail address, telephone, fax) for the corresponding author listed on your submission. Include e-mail addresses for all co-authors.

Abstract: Q-Tip is a 1-page department and, as such, does not have an abstract.

Text: Q-Tips are limited to a maximum of 550 words, including references, acknowledgments, funding disclosures, etc, if used. Submissions that exceed this word count will be returned to the author to be shortened to an appropriate length. Although your text should address the elements of a research paper (problem statement/objective, methods, results, lessons learned), do not include subheads for these elements.

References: Should your submission include references, please refer to the journal instructions for authors (http://www.sagepub.com/journals/Journal201749/manuscriptSubmission) for formatting requirements.

Tables/figures: Q-Tip is a 1-page department with limited space. Tables and/or figures are not permitted.

Conflict of interest: Include conflict of interest disclosures for all authors in the manuscript. These will not be published (unless a conflict exists) due to space issues, but the information is required.

Contributor form: The corresponding author will be expected to complete a contributor form on behalf of all authors. The form will be supplied by the managing editor.

Any questions about these guidelines can be sent to Deb Meiris at Deborah.meiris@jefferson.edu.